

STARTERS

The uniqueness at Via Emilia is our special bread which has a different name in each city: 'Chisulino' in Piacenza, 'Gnocco Fritto' in Modena and Reggio Emilia, 'Torta Fritta' in Parma, 'Crescentina' in Bologna, 'Pinzino' in Ferrara. Different names for the same product: a soft freshly-made and gently-fried bread to taste with our personally sourced charcuterie and cheese. We encourage to enjoy this starter experience in the authentic way: using only your hands!

HOME-HAND-MADE PASTA

Each egg pasta dish we serve is passionately home-hand-made in our kitchen in front of you and is the typical one of that specific city. For a reason each dish is not written in Italian but in dialect, the local language of that city. We suggest 3 pastas to share every 2 people. We also offer home-made Gluten-free egg tagliatelle (£13)* with any sauce.

MENU

We wanted to focus on food products, recipes, beers and wines that come only from Emilia-Romagna, the region in the north of Italy where the homemade egg pasta was originally invented!

But it's not all about pasta because our uniqueness is also the typical regional bread: the popular "Gnocco Fritto", definitely a "must eat" in here to savour with charcuterie & cheese. The name 'Via Emilia' comes from an ancient Roman road that still crosses the region connecting the main cities: from west to east Piacenza, Parma, Reggio Emilia, Modena, Bologna, Ferrara, Ravenna, Forlì, Cesena and Rimini.

WINE LIST

Drinks list

All our wines come from the region and the most popular one is Lambrusco, a “must drink” for the best combination with our food. Red, dry, fizzy and full of flavour, only Lambrusco will be served in the traditional ceramic bowl..

As for the rest we might not have Prosecco but we have Pignoletto, we might miss Brunello di Montalcino but we have a premium Sangiovese “Liano” that you will hardly forget.
